Response to Interview Summary

Dear Sir:

This is a response to the Interview Summary relating to the oral interview on August 9, 2006 between the Examiner and my associate, Kenneth Emanuelson (Reg. No. 46,684).

REMARKS

In our prior communication dated August 18, 2006, Applicant noted with disapproval the Examiner's general approach to "examination" of this case, in which little regard has been paid to the details of this case or the rules or procedures of the United States Patent and Trademark Office. The Examiner's Interview Summary is, unfortunately, fully consistent with his general lack of professionalism.

AUG 28 2006

The Interview Summary asserts that an oral interview was conducted on August 9, 2006 between the Examiner and Lawrence Youst, but no such interview ever occurred. The interview to which the Examiner refers was between the Examiner and my associate, Kenneth Emanuelson. The Examiner claims to accurately record the contents of the conversation, and yet he does not even correctly recall the name of the person to whom he spoke.

Unfortunately, the identity of the person to whom Mr. Subramanian spoke is not the only error he made. The Examiner's Interview Summary claims that no agreement was reached in the course of the interview. It is my understanding that an agreement was, in fact, reached during the course of the oral interview. It is further my understanding, based upon my conversations with Mr. Emanuelson, that the Examiner agreed to withdraw the outstanding non-responsiveness and 112 rejections and substantively examine claims 67-114 if Applicant could demonstrate that claims 67-114, presently objected to by the Examiner, cover the same invention as earlier claims 1-66. Applicant finds it unfortunate that the Examiner feels compelled to engage in this sort of revisionist history.

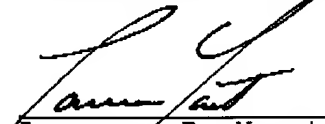

Acting in reliance on the Examiner's representations, Applicant thoroughly demonstrated in the response dated August 18, 2006 that claims 67-114 do, in fact, cover the same invention as previously filed claims 1-66. Apparently, the Examiner does not feel compelled to comply with the substance of the agreement reached during the interview. Again, Applicant considers this situation unfortunate, but is fully prepared to file, upon receipt of the Examiner's next formal action, a petition or appeal, as necessary to receive the substantive examination to which our client is fully entitled under the law, regulations and procedures of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

Dated this 28th day of August, 2006.

Respectfully submitted:
